

Capability Assessment

The purpose of conducting a capability assessment as part of this document is to identify the strengths, weaknesses, gaps and opportunities for local entities to address mitigating risks. A capability assessment serves as the foundation for designing an effective hazard mitigation strategy. It not only helps establish the goals and objectives for the mitigation plan, but it ensures that those goals and objectives are realistically achievable under given local conditions. While the capability assessment serves as a good instrument for identifying local capabilities, it also provides a means for recognizing gaps and weaknesses that can be resolved through future mitigation actions.

NFIP Participation Findings

Capabilities for conducting community floodplain management and flood mitigation activities are typically guided, evaluated and enhanced through participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). Participation in the NFIP requires specific regulatory and administrative measures that enable government officials to determine where and how growth occurs relative to flood hazards. Participation in the NFIP is voluntary, but participation by jurisdictions enables property owners within the community to purchase federally backed flood insurance for buildings and personal belongings. Madison County participates in the NFIP and is in good standing. Table 5.1 summarizes NFIP participation and policy statistics for Madison County.

Table 5.1 NFIP Participating Communities

| Jurisdiction | Community ID | Current Effective Map Date | Policies In-Force | CRS Class Rating |
|--|--------------|----------------------------|-------------------|------------------|
| Madison County | 280228# | 03/17/10 | 287 | N/A |
| According to the MS Emergency Management Agency, there are ten (10) properties identified as repetitive loss properties and no severe repetitive loss properties identified for Madison County. Furthermore, Madison County has a total of 25 flood losses claimed totaling $654,544 in claim payments. | | | | |

Madison County has adopted and enforces floodplain management regulations in compliance with NFIP standards. The county's current Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance requires new construction and substantial improvement of any residential or non-residential structures to have the lowest floor elevated to no lower than 1 foot above the base flood elevation. It is the intent of Madison County to maintain continued compliance with all NFIP regulations.

Planning and Regulatory Findings

Planning and regulatory capabilities for Madison County are based on what plans and programs exist and how they are implemented within the county. Some of the most important planning and regulatory capabilities that can be utilized for hazard mitigation include policies that establish goals and restrict development in identified hazard areas such as comprehensive plans, building codes, floodplain ordinances, subdivision regulations, and zoning ordinances. The existence and use of any of these planning and regulatory capabilities indicates a jurisdiction's commitment and ability to manage development in a safe and effective manner. Table 5.2 summarizes the planning capabilities identified within Madison County as it relates to the existence of each planning and/or regulatory capability.

Administrative and Technical Findings

Administrative and technical resources are an indication of a jurisdiction's ability to implement hazard mitigation actions. Existing administrative capabilities indicate how mitigation activities may be designated to specific departments, and technical capabilities indicate the level of knowledge or expertise held by jurisdiction employees. Common examples of skill sets and technical personnel needed for hazard mitigation include: planners with the knowledge of land and development practices, engineers or building officials trained in construction practices, emergency managers trained in preparedness and response practices, etc. Table 5.3 summarizes the administrative and technical capability within Madison County.

Financial Findings

The ability for a local government to implement mitigation actions is closely tied to the amount of funding available to them. This availability is largely based on a jurisdiction's ability to apply for state and federal funding and the ability to levy local taxes. Table 5.4 summarizes financial options available within Madison County.

| Capital Improvement Project Funds | Yes |
| Authority to Levy Taxes for Specific Purposes | Yes |
| Fees for water, sewer, gas, or electric services | No |
| Incur Debt through Bonds | Yes |
| Eligible for State Grant Programs (e.g. CDGB Program) | Yes |
| Eligible for Federal Grant Programs (e.g. Pre-Disaster Mitigation Grants) | Yes |

Education and Early Warning Findings

Education and outreach activities can be cost-effective mitigation actions that are often overlooked. Table 5.5 summarizes current outreach activities in place within Madison County, as well as, early warning capabilities.

Mitigation Strategy

This section of the mitigation plan contains a blueprint to help reduce future losses from natural hazards. This section describes the goals and objectives established by the Mitigation Council and an explanation of the prioritization process used to develop the action plan for the county based on the county's specific vulnerabilities.

Goals and Objectives

Mitigation goals are general guidelines that explain what Madison County wants to achieve. At the beginning of the planning process, the Mitigation Council reviewed the goals and objectives included in the Mitigation Plan previously developed for Madison County to determine which goals are still relevant and whether or not new goals should be developed as part of the planning process. The result of this review is the development of five (5) goal statements listed below. The goals established are considered to be broad general guidance statements that define the long-term direction for Madison County's mitigation planning process. Each goal statement has two or more objectives that provide more specific actions to be taken. The goals and objectives established by the Mitigation Council for Madison County include:

Mitigation Action Plan Review

As part of the planning process, Madison County reviewed the action plan included in the previous mitigation plan to track the progress being made to implement mitigation practices throughout Madison County. During this review, the Mitigation Council determined the status of each action included in the previous plan, and noted if each action had been successfully completed, is no longer relevant, or if the action is still on-going. 2016 - 2021 Mitigation Action Plan

Once the Mitigation Council completed the review of previously developed mitigation strategies, the Mitigation Council then used the goals developed as part of this plan and the information from the Risk Assessment Section to revise, update and develop a new mitigation strategy for Madison County. Furthermore, each action identified is based on the results of the capability assessment completed by the county as part of this plan. The capability assessment identified, reviewed and analyzed local and state programs, policies, regulations, funding and practices that are currently in place that may either facilitate or hinder local mitigation efforts. Therefore, each action identified as part of this planning process is designed to reduce future losses, decrease risk, and improve disaster recovery efforts based on realistic local capabilities. Each action item identifies:

1. Mitigation Action: Identifies the specific action that, if accomplished, will reduce a jurisdiction's vulnerability to natural hazards.
2. Entity: The Jurisdiction adopting the mitigation action
3. New or Reoccurring Action: Identifies if the action is new or a reoccurring action from a previously adopted Mitigation Plan.
4. Hazard Addressed: Identifies the hazard(s), which the action attempts to mitigate.
5. Priority: Indicates whether the action is a high, medium or low priority based on a general cost-benefit review. The broad review conducted for each action takes into account the following factors: a) effect on overall risk to life and property; b) ease of implementation; c) community support; d) estimated cost of the project, and e) funding availability. An action receiving a low priority could have tremendous benefits to life and property, but may be considered too costly with limited funding options and/or limited community support. An action receiving a medium priority is considered to have slight community support, funding options, and some benefits. An action with a high priority is considered to have broad community support and tremendous benefits. However, funding may need to be secured or the action has minimal costs.
6. Estimated Cost: Indicates an estimated general cost to accomplish the mitigation action. A more detailed cost analysis will need to be conducted prior to applying for grant funds or appropriating general funds.
7. Potential Funding Sources: Indicates possible funding sources to assist with accomplishing the mitigation action.
8. Lead Agency: Identifies the local or regional agency that is best suited to accomplish the mitigation action.
9. Implementation Schedule: Indicates the timeframe in which the mitigation action is proposed for implementation.

The completion of each action listed below is dependent upon available resources and funding to complete each action. This Action Plan may be modified from time to time, as detailed in Section 7 of this plan, as priorities change, or as resources within Madison County increase or decrease.

Plan Maintenance

This section of Madison County's Mitigation Plan outlines how this plan will continue to be monitored, evaluated, and updated within a five-year cycle as required by federal regulations. This section explains who will be responsible for maintenance activities. It also provides a methodology and schedule of maintenance activities including a description of how the public will be involved on a continued basis, and how mitigation practices outlined in this plan will be incorporated into future planning mechanisms.

Monitoring, Evaluating, and Updating the Plan

Key components to any successful planning document are the efforts used to keep the plan current after it has been developed through monitoring, evaluating and updating the document on a regular basis. FEMA defines these terms as:

Monitoring is a means of tracking the implementation of the plan over time by identifying how, when, and by whom the plan will be monitored.

Evaluating is a means of assessing the effectiveness of the plan at achieving its stated purpose and goals by identifying how, when, and by whom the plan will be evaluated.

Updating is a means of reviewing and revising the plan at least once every five-years to reflect changes in development, progress, and priorities. Updating also includes identifying how, when and by whom the plan will be updated.

In order to make this plan a living document and to continuously engage local officials Madison County's Emergency Management Office will continue to coordinate the plan maintenance efforts. Prior to the required five-year update, Madison County's Mitigation Council shall meet on an annual basis, at a minimum, to look at the plan and discuss possible updates and progress implementing mitigation actions. The form detailed in Figure 7.1 will be distributed to the Madison County Mitigation Council members annually by the Madison County Emergency Management Department. This form will be used by committee members and other local officials assigned with responsibility for implementing mitigation actions to track and report progress implementing mitigation actions included in this document. This form can also be used to submit new actions identified for inclusion in this document between the five-year required update. Madison County Mitigation Council members are responsible for collecting additional mitigation actions from the appropriate county department and completing the form as needed to provide updates to existing actions.

The Madison County Mitigation Council will use the Plan Update Evaluation Worksheet identified in Figure 7.2 to evaluate this plan and make recommendations for future updates. The worksheet will be sent to each county department annually through Mitigation Council members.

CMPDD will assist Madison County in applying for future funding to update this planning document within five-years. CMPDD will assist the county in applying for grant assistance to help with the costs of updating this plan. However, if future funding for plan updates are not available it is the responsibility of Madison County to maintain and update this document as required by federal regulations.

Furthermore, in the event of a large-scale disaster prior to the required five-year update, Madison County will review the plan to verify the plan's accuracy. A meeting, if necessary, will be called of the Madison County Mitigation Council to discuss any plan changes. The Board of Supervisors has final authority to adopt any updates or revisions to this document once submitted to them for consideration.

Preliminary Monitoring, Evaluating, and Updating Plan Schedule

November 2016 – Plan adoption

October 2017, 2018 & 2019 – Worksheets for evaluating and monitoring mailed to Mitigation Council members

November 2017, 2018 & 2019 – Annual Mitigation Council Meeting

November 2019 – apply for grant funding to assist with five-year update

October 2020 – start the five-year update process based on funding availability

November 2021 – Updated plan approved

Public involvement was a key component to the development of this plan, and will continue to be an essential element utilized as changes are made to this plan over time. As is the case with any officially adopted plan, any significant changes to this plan will require additional public review and comment opportunities. The public will have access to the current Hazard Mitigation Plan through the Madison County Emergency Management Office. The public is encouraged to submit comments regarding this plan at any time. The Madison County Mitigation Council will review and consider all relevant comments received during the next update of the plan.

In addition, Madison County may seek continued public involvement through activities such as press releases, town hall meetings and/or involvement solicited through the county website, as needed, before the five-year update begins.

Plan Incorporation into Existing Planning Mechanisms

Madison County has a number of planning mechanisms in place throughout the county. Since the completion of the 2011 update to the Madison County Hazard Mitigation Plan, none of the existing policies have been updated that could incorporate elements of the Mitigation Plan. However, as the county continues to grow integrating components of this plan with other planning mechanisms identified in Section 5 of this document will be the responsibility of the Board of Supervisors. Whenever appropriate, the county will integrate the goals and objectives as well as other components of this plan into local planning mechanisms such as, Comprehensive Plans, Capital Improvement Plans, Zoning Regulations, etc. The integration process and schedule of incorporating elements of this plan will vary based on the plan's update cycle. The annual Madison County Mitigation Council meeting will provide an opportunity to track the progress on the integration of this plan into local planning mechanisms.
